

do you really think it fair that small independant isp should foot the bill for att,etc for broadband that they will never carry? My advice to you is that if you don't want a total uprising against the government ,that you better let this bill go.